When needed, MIC shall consider appointing/delegating an academic staff as the Learning Support Office based on the student needs analysis and review of the feedback. This position will dedicatedly assist and support students with academic issues and preparation; including writing, learning, and research skills under supervision of the Academic Manager.
- Counselling services and other external referrals will be arranged if deemed appropriate by the Student Support Officer. There is no fee attached to this welfare support and referral service. Any cost charged by the external services will be paid by the students.
- All students are required to attend an orientation day at the beginning of their studies (Student Orientation Policy and Procedure). The Student Support Officer shall discuss the provision or support services and how best the students can avail these services during their studies at the RTO.

Academic and Learning Support

- Students may have concerns with their attendance, academic performance or other related issues that are placing them at risk of not achieving the requirements of their program or completing within the expected duration. MIC will, accordingly, provide an ongoing academic support to students in form of Language, Literacy and Numeracy (LLN) programs or referrals to these programs if needed, course progress intervention and academic support if deemed at risk of not completing the course on time, scheduled learning and study support sessions, and academic support for people with disability and learning difficulties.
- Students can access college's student support services by approaching either the Student Support Officer or any staff member in their immediate contact. Students will also be provided with a Student Concern form and additional information (Ref: 5.8) on the relevant policies and procedures to deal with and report any issues of concern or welfare.
- All students will have an unequivocal access to college resources and an equal opportunity to access college programs, services and resources, including Information Technology (IT), library, course and learning materials, access to academic and administrative staff members, avenues to lodge and resolve complaints, student welfare and student support services, and access to their administrative and academic records.

Students with LLN Needs

- LLN needs may be identified through pre-enrolment and pre-training assessments, during student orientation, and/or trainer/assessors' recommendations. MIC will analyse these needs and provide a strategy for assistance. These needs will be addressed through classroom learning and assessment activities over the duration of the program. MIC's Language, Literacy, and Numeracy (LLN) Policy further supports these needs.
- For all learners, LLN are key underpinning skills that will support their vocational learning, the development of their employability skills and their workplace communication skills whatever level of course or training they are doing (The Crux of the Matter, DETT, 2011). Accordingly, MIC will embed LLN principles within its delivery and learning and assessment tasks.
- MIC uses Australian Core Skills Framework (ACSF) as a reference to assess current LLN skill levels.
- LLN needs may be identified through student's self-assessment (pre-enrolment), during student orientation, and/or trainer/assessors' recommendations. These needs will be addressed through classroom learning and assessment activities over the duration of the program. MIC may refer students to appropriate levels of English language programs within the RTO or external providers depending on the specific needs/requirements of the student.

Students with Disability

- MIC acknowledges the Disability Discrimination Act 1992 and the Disability Standards for Education 2005, and its obligation as an education and training provider to support the rights of students with disability to participate in educational courses and programs on the same basis as students without disability.
- Students who wish to apply for adjustments to teaching or assessment methods on the basis of a disability should contact Academic Manager and bring supporting documents for consideration of disability (e.g. a letter from your treating professional).
- Reasonable adjustments to training and assessment methods are made using the following principles (Ref: ACARA):
 - Students with disabilities are subject to the standard rules and policy on assessment and teaching methods, and assessment is only varied where a student can demonstrate with appropriate documentation that he/she is disadvantaged as a result of disability.
 - The nature of reasonable adjustments is such that they are designed to minimise the disadvantage experienced by students with disabilities, rather than provide students with a competitive advantage.
 - Any adjustments to assessment for a student with a disability are to be made in such a way as to ensure that the fundamental nature of the assessment remains the same i.e. students with disabilities are still required to demonstrate a pre-determined level of ability in relation to essential competency requirements.

Student Hardship

The requirements of study may present some students with hardship, due to economic, social, or other difficulties. Where genuine hardship exists, a student may seek permission to review their workload or other related matters.

To make a request, a student will be required to provide a letter to the Student Support Officer describing the reason for their hardship. It is essential to include evidence supporting a claim of hardship, for example:

- Financial hardship: Financial documents, pay slips or bank statements which indicate financial status;
- Medical grounds: Medical certificates stating nature of condition, duration;
- Family Situation: Doctor or Counsellor's report or recommendation, external community/welfare agency recommendation

Student Support Officer shall review the request and where necessary arrange a face-to-face meeting to discuss the issues and provide the required support through internal or external referrals and advice.

Information to Students

Information on student support services, and procedures for accessing these services, including contact details of the Student Support Officer will be made available to all the students through;

- Student Handbook
- RTO Website
- Student Orientation Program

The Student Support Officer shall ensure that up-to-date information is available for student support services and that any contact details provided are current.

Students may access the Student Support Officer directly (e.g. email, phone), by contacting any administrative staff, Academic Manager, or via the front desk. The front desk shall also assist with organising appointments as soon as practicable.

Student Orientation

At the beginning of a course of study the students are to be given a short orientation and it must include the following:

- A tour of the RTO identifying classrooms, student areas, student administration area, and any other relevant areas within the RTO such as toilets, fire exits, and restricted areas.
- Information on emergency evacuation procedures
- Information on how to access the student support services within MIC.

5. Review and Continuous Improvement

In order to ensure that the MIC has support services for students that are appropriate in scope and quality for the capacity of the MIC and mode of delivery of its programs, MIC shall implement a regimen of regular review and feedback from various stakeholders to monitor the efficacy of the availability and accessibility of the support services and action enhancements and improvements where necessary.

Stakeholder Feedback

Regular stakeholder feedback through the use of survey instruments will inform the MIC when reviewing the adequacy of its support services through the following process;

- A survey of students is conducted for selected programs during each study period that will include a section on the quality of the MIC's support services soliciting suggestions on any improvements which might be made to improve the student experience.
- The General Manager will review the surveys, analyse the feedback and summarise any issues raised in regard to support services, and make appropriate recommendations to the CEO.
- The CEO will meet formally and informally with the Student Support Officer to discuss any issues raised and to formulate possible strategies for improvement.
- The Student Support Officer will recommend any improvements to support services to the CEO for action.
- All improvements that have been recommended by the Student Support Officer to the CEO for action will be discussed by the Senior Management Committee and allocated to a responsible person for completion within an agreed timeframe.
- Outstanding actions will be monitored by the Senior Management until evidence of completion.
- Where amounts not allocated in the budget are required for the improvement of support services, the CEO approval will be needed for additional funds.

Ongoing Review

The Senior Management will continuously review the efficacy of support services in their areas of responsibility through the following process:

- Each member of the Senior Management will be required to report at each meeting on any issues related to support services that have arisen since the previous meeting. This will be a standing item on the agenda for meetings of the Senior Management.
- Where improvements to the MIC's support services need to be addressed, any actions required will be decided upon by the Senior Management and will be allocated to a responsible person for completion within the agreed timeframe.
- Outstanding actions will be monitored by the Senior Executives until evidence of completion.
- Where amounts not allocated in the budget are required for the improvement of support services, the CEO approval will be needed for additional funds.
